Your gift supplies food for families in need across Northwest Missouri and Northeast Kansas.
OUR MISSION
To provide nourishment and hope to the hungry while engaging and empowering the region in the fight to end hunger.

OUR VISION
A hunger-free Northwest Missouri and Northeast Kansas.

This past year has included many difficulties and challenges. Families were faced with food insecurity, some for the first time in their lives, and what we saw in response was activation, promise, and hope. The collective empathy and generosity of those who were able to support their neighbors in need was inspiring and encouraging. Instead of blame and shame we saw empathy, understanding, and a willingness to help. When families needed help from Second Harvest the most, our donors, volunteers and supporters rallied to help us increase our service and distributions to respond to the increased need throughout the region.

Since the beginning of the pandemic, Second Harvest helped distribute nearly 15 million pounds of nutritious food product, translating to approximately 12.5 million meals for our neighbors in need. Our adaptability and resiliency were tested, but we are tremendously proud of the response and support we have been able to provide, thanks to the support from individuals like you.

While more people are food insecure because of the pandemic, many families were struggling prior to the pandemic, and we anticipate a significant need will continue as families work toward economic stability through the recovery process. I am also encouraged by the work of Feeding America, supporting food banks like Second Harvest as we work to address disparities we see in rural communities and diverse populations; where poverty is often more prevalent and individuals are tougher to reach.

We know there will always be challenges, especially during times of crisis, but with your continued support problems are solvable. We will continue to identify ways to improve our reach and access; supporting families throughout the region who continue to look to us for HOPE.

The solution to hunger...
Throughout our nation food banks, much like many other organizations, had to adjust and adapt to the many obstacles encountered by the COVID-19 global pandemic. Seemingly overnight, the world woke up to a life like nothing that had been encountered during our lifetime. Whole populations of people were losing their jobs, schools were closing, and students were being home schooled. A virus was spreading rapidly through the population and people were afraid. Many, for the first time ever, were discovering that they were food insecure.

Second Harvest was holding 26 monthly Fresh Mobile Pantry distributions and our 65 Partner Agencies were distributing food on a regular schedule prior to the pandemic. Our service territory had over 45,000 food insecure individuals. Within a matter of weeks COVID-19 conditions grew that the number of food insecure by nearly 20,000 individuals and many Partner Agencies temporarily suspended food distribution. Second Harvest quickly adapted to meet the needs of those newly experiencing food insecurity.

“We recognized Second Harvest had to rapidly address the growing number of food insecure individuals in our area. Our mission is to bring nourishment and hope to the hungry and we wanted to make sure that happened in a dignified way,” said Second Harvest Chief Development Officer, Michelle Fagerstone.

From March 2020 to June 2020, Second Harvest held an additional 70 ‘Pop-Up’ mobile distributions. These 70 mobiles assisted in distributing over 1 million additional meals to those in need by the end of June.

"Being able to provide extra mobile distributions was crucial to assisting those in need, especially at the early stages of the pandemic,” said Michelle Fagerstone. "The mobile distribution model allowed our organization to distribute sizeable amounts of food while allowing us to provide proper safety protocols for everyone involved and lessen transportation burdens for families throughout our area.”

As the pandemic continues, Second Harvest understands there will be long lasting effects for individuals within our 19-counties.

Moving forward, Second Harvest has permanently increased the number of monthly Fresh Mobile Pantry locations from 26 to 40. All to continue providing additional servicing within each county.
